How is the District addressing anti-bullying in our schools?

The Piscataway School District has strict policies and procedures to prevent and respond to bullying. In accordance with a law that took effect on September 1, 2011, the district strengthened measures, adopted a new policy, and established school-based anti-bullying teams. Schools schedule anti-bullying presentations and activities to reinforce positive behaviors. Additional information about our anti-bullying policies and procedures, including District HIB information can be found here.
