

How does the hiring process work?

All available positions are listed on the district website in addition to other job posting locations and all candidates apply online. Human resources and other administrators review all applicants – both internal and external – and select which candidates will move to the interview phase of the hiring process. Depending on the level of employment, multiple interviews, demonstration lessons and skill tests may be required before a final candidate is offered the position.